WILL BE NO SMALL STATE

Czecho-Slovakia Could at Once Take Rank as Eighth World Power, Asserts Writer.

We are told the Czecho-Slovak state will be a small one, and as a result its existence will be precarious, assuming the world shall remain in anything like its present condition of international disorganization. Charles Pergler writes in Asia Magazine. In the first place, as modern states go, the new state will not be a small one, having a population of about 12,000,000, and the area of the new state will be about 50,000 English square miles. When we recollect that Belgium has 11,373 square miles, it is seen at a glance that the new state can hardly be classed as small. Moreover, the belief in the necessity of large states, rife in certain circles of economic and political theorists, and largely based upon certain teachings of Karl Marx, is one of the superstitions that periodically appear, in order to be abandoned upon a sober second thought. The theory that small states and nations cannot succeed is not borne out by history. Even prior to the war there were in Europe 27 states, and the great majority of these were small. There were only six of the so-called great powers: Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary, England, France and Italy. Portugal, Denmark, Switzerland, Bulgaria, Belgium, Norway, Serbia, Greece, Holland, Sweden, Montenegro and Turkey are all, or were, smaller than the state we are attempting to describe. The latter will hold in Europe the eighth place, only England, Poland, France, Italy, Spain and Russia being larger.

Hogs or Poison Will Kill Cutworms.

Many farmers have successfully used hogs to rid alfalfa of cutworms, says an article sent out by the office of the State Entomologist. Hogs are fond of the worms and they will do very effective work, especially if enough of them are used. Where there are not enough hogs, a mixture of 50 pounds of bran, 2 pounds of paris green, a gallon of cheap molasses or sorghum, the juice and ground up pulp and peel of six lemons, with enough water to make a stiff dough, will serve as a worm poison. This amount ordinarily will do for 10 acres. Some farmers have been successful in killing the worms with a weighted harrow, sloping the teeth just enough to crush the worms. The worms may be stopped from migrating into other fields by plowing a deep furrow, making the side of the furrow away from the advancing worms perpendicular with a spade and digging postholes in the bottom of the furrow every thirty feet. In attempting to get over the furrow the worms will lodge in the postholes, where they may be killed with kerosene. The poisoned bran strung between the fields will be nibbled by most of the worms as they pass over.

Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer $100 Reward for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Sowing vacant places in corn to raise or cane will offset some of the loss of a poor corn stand, some farmers reason, according to the observation of University extension agronomists. The Lutherans of Nebraska, in connection with the United Lutheran church in America have started this week a campaign for $500,000 for Christian education, the outcome of which will be the removal of Midland College from Atchison, Kansas, to Fremont, Nebraska. The Board of Trustees, early this month, voted in favor of removal provided that Nebraska Lutherans would guarantee a fund of $310,000 for permanent improvement and the purchase of Fremont College. The fund of $500,000 will provide needed additional endowment above amount needed for buildings, etc. The plan is to merge Midland College which is a standard college of high educational rating with the present Fremont Normal College, thus providing a strong educational institution for Nebraska. The campaign started at Fremont, and the canvassers secured nearly $10,000 the first day of the campaign. Every congregation in the English and German Nebraska Synods is being asked to co-operate in this campaign. The challenge from Kansas has spurred Nebraskans to do their best.
